Hicksford Chapter, D. A. R.,
Ancient Village for which it was named.

Hicksford Chapter was organized June 14, 1911, with 17 Charter members. The organizer and first regent was Mrs. Dora Hedges Goodwyn (Mrs. W. Samuel). From the date of its organization until June 1st, 1938, the Chapter bore the name, "Joseph Hedges," a Revolutionary ancestor of Mrs. Goodwyn. After Mrs. Goodwyn's removal to another State and her death, it was deemed proper and advisable to rename the Chapter. "Hicksford" was selected as being most fitting as this was the name of the ancient and historic village which had been in existence for 139 years, prior to being renamed Emporia. Two ancient trails traversed this village from the earliest days of the Colony: One known as the Halifax Road and the other as the Spottswood Trail. Governor Spottswood used the road which was named for him, in his travels to Fort Christianna, which he established in what is now Brunswick County, for the protection of the settlers and also for the school which he had established at this point for the education of the Indians. His earliest recorded trip to this Fort was 1714, at which time he used the Trail, named in his honor, and stopped for over-night rest and refreshment at Butts Tavern. This Tavern was built about 1700, and was truly a "Mansion in the Wilderness." This is what Governor Spottswood called it. He also stopped at this tavern when on his way to Germanna in what is now Orange County. At Germanna, Governor Spottswood planted a colony of Germans to work his iron furnaces. At this time, the Rapidan River was the frontier of Virginia. Butts Tavern, still standing in Emporia, is at present being restored to its original glory by the Women's Clubs of the town.

Butts Tavern is known to have had many illustrious guests. Among them Col. William Byrd, and his party, who passed through the village after surveying the dividing line between Virginia and North Carolina in 1728. And in 1781, Lord Cornwallis and his army marched on the Halifax Road, which ran through the village, on his way to Yorktown.

The village got its name from Capt. Robt. Hicks, a retired English Officer who was the pioneer settler in what is now Greensville County. Capt. Hicks named the river which runs through the County from west to east, Meherrin, in honor of the noble tribe of Indians who had lived upon its banks from time Immemorial. Space does not permit further history of the ancient village for which our Chapter was named.

During its existence Hicksford Chapter has had four regents, Mrs. W. Samuel Goodwyn, Mrs. L. C. Harrell, Mrs. W. B. Goodwyn and Mrs. Charles Klotz, the incumbent. It has had but one Treasurer, a Charter member, Mrs. R. J. Green. Her's has been a remarkable record.

Much work of historical importance has been accomplished during the Chapter's life of 41 years. Several spots of Colonial and Revolutionary interest in the Town and County have been established and will be marked. Many historical papers have been prepared and sent to the proper officials. The Chapter is most fortunate in having had as its regent, Mrs. W. B. Goodwyn, an historian of recognized ability, both locally and statewide. During World War One, the Chapter cared for a French orphan each year. It started the work of the Red Cross here, and contributed liberally to its treasury. It paid for a chair in Constitution Hall, Washington, D. C., dedicated to the memory of the first regent, Mrs. Dora Hedges Goodwyn. Its work in World War Two was outstanding in many respects; especially in the support of War Loan drives, Red Cross work of all kinds and generous donations to the Blood Plasma Bank.

In the Memorial Bell Tower at Valley Forge the name of the Chapter, as well as the names of several veterans of World War Two who were of Revolutionary ancestry, have been inscribed.

A Roster of Revolutionary Patriots of Greensville County, has been completed, as far as available data would permit, typed, framed and hung in the Clerk's Office at Emporia. Located, framed and hung in the Clerk's Office also, is an original Land Grant, to the Stewart Family of this County, which was signed by Lord Botetourt for his Majesty, George the 3rd, Jan. 9, 1769.

The above are only a few of the pertinent facts concerning Hicksford Chapter, D. A. R. and the ancient village for which it was named.

THE WOODFORD FAMILY

By
Mrs. Thomas Henry Clay
(Bessie Woodford Clay)

The name Woodford is of English origin, the old English form WudaForda signifying "Dweller at the Ford"; in Middle English it was usually Wodeford, and finally became Woodford. The family seat was in County Somerset and Burke's "Landed Gentry" gives "Ansford" as the name of their estate.

William Woodford of Essex County, Virginia, was the first of the family in America. He was born in England and came to Virginia before 1711. On May 19, 1711, Richard Taliaferro of Richmond County and Charles Talliaferro of Essex County conveyed to William Woodford 1600 acres of land, the same having been conveyed to them by Francis Talliaferro.[1]

Caroline County was formed in 1727 from Essex, King and Queen and King William Counties. Willaim Woodford became the first sheriff of the newly formed county.....

William Woodford was thrice married; first to Mrs. Mary Whitaker who came with him to America and died without issue; 2nd to the Widow Battaille who also died childless. Lastly, on the 2nd day of September, 1732, he married Ann Cocke, daughter of

DR. WILLIAM COCKE, SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE COLONY OF VIRGINIA IN 1709 AND MEMBER OF THE KING'S COUNCIL IN 1713, AND ELIZABETH CATESBY, DAUGHTER OF JOHN CATESBY (BORN 1613; MARRIED ELIZABETH JEKYLL MAY 16, 1670), AND SISTER OF MARK CATESBY, THE DISTINGUISHED NATURALIBT. BOTH DR. COCKE AND HIS WIFE WERE BORN IN ENGLAND BUT WERE LOCATED IN WILLIAMSBURG, VA., AS EARLY AS 1713. HE WAS A MAN OF NOTE IN THE COLONY AND A TABLET TO HIS MEMORY IS TO BE SEEN ON THE WEST SIDE OF THE ALTAR IN FAMOUS OLD BRUTON PARISH CHURCH.

"THE CATESBY FAMILY IS OF WELSH ORIGIN AND HAS LONG BEEN CONSIDERED ONE OF THE MOST ANCIENT AND RESPECTABLE FAMILIES IN ENGLAND". THE RECORD STARTS WITH WILLIAM DE CATESBY, CIR. 1300-1370, WHO MARRIED ALICE LADBROKE. MARK CATESBY WAS A THOR OF THE CELEBRATED WORK CALLED "THE NATURAL HISTORY OF CAROLINA, FLORIDA, AND THE BAHAMAS". HE SPENT SEVERAL YEARS IN VIRGINIA COLLECTING MATERIAL FOR THIS BOOK AND A GOODLY PORTION OF THIS TIME WAS SPENT AT "WINDSOR", THE HOME OF HIS NIECE, ANN COCKE WOODFORD. THOMAS JEFFERSON PLACED A COPY OF THE BOOK IN THE LIBRARY OF THE COLLEGE OF WILLIAM AND MARY "ON CONDITION THAT IS SHOULD NEVER GO OUTSIDE THE COLLEGE". (SEE INSCRIPTION ON THE TITLE PAGE IN JEFFERSON'S OWN HAND-WRITING.)

HOW STRANGE THAT NOTHING MORE IS KNOWN OF HENRY!

NEITHER HAS ANY RECORD BEEN FOUND OF THE FATHER OF THOMAS WOODFORD, SON WILLIAM, WHO LEASED LAND IN LOUDON CO., VA., IN 1781, NOR OF WILLIAM WOODFORD, WIRE SUSANNAH AND ONLY SON, WILLIAM, JR., WHO LEASED LAND IN

LOUDON COUNTY IN 1787.

CAN'T IT BE THAT THOMAS AND WILLIAM WERE BROTHERS AND SONS OF HENRY? THOMAS NAMED A SON HENRY.

WOODFORD

About the close of the seventeenth century Major William Woodford came from England to Virginia and settled in that portion of Essex, King & Queen, or King William County which in 1727 became Caroline County. He was of the best English blood and bore an ancient coat-of-arms, as follows:

> Sa three leopard's heads reversed gu, jessant-de-lis ar. Crest - A woodman holding a club in the dexter hand and a palm branch in the sinister, in bend, all ppr.
> Motto: Libertate quietam.

Major Woodford mar. Anne Cocke, dau. of Dr. William Cocke, Secretary of the Colony in 1709 and member of the King's Council in 1713, and Elizabeth Catesby, dau. of Mark Catesby, the distinguished naturalist. Upon his marriage he established his home on the Rappahannock river about ten miles below what is now (1952) Fredericksburg and called it "Windsor". He there enjoyed the life of an English gentlemen.[1]

Major Woodford and wife, Anne Cocke Woodford, had sons

(1) William Woodford, born October 6, 1734;

FOUGHT IN THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR; ROSE TO RANK OF BRIGADIER-GENERAL IN 1778; TAKEN PRISONER AT THE SIEGE OF CHARLESTON AND TAKEN ON BOARD A BRITISH WAR SHIP TO NEW YORK HARBOR, WHERE HE DIED NOV. 13, 1780. HE WAS BURIED IN TRINITY CHURCH-YARD, NEW YORK CITY.[2]

(2) THOMAS WOODFORD, BORN AUGUST 4, 1736; CAPTAIN OF A MERCHANTMAN; DIED S.P. (SINE PROLE-WITHOUT ISSUE) AT CHERRY POINT SOON AFTER THE REVOLUTION.

(3); JOHN: (4) HENRY?[3] NOTHING IS KNOWN (BY THIS WRITER) ABOUT THE LAST TWO. THERE MAY HAVE BEEN OTHERS ALSO.

THOMAS WOODFORD APPEARED IN LOUDON COUNTY, VA., MARCH 10, 1781, WHEN AN INDENTURE WAS MADE (RECORDED APRIL 10, 1786) BETWEEN GEORGE WILLIAM FAIRFAX, ESQ., BY HIS ATTORNEY, GEORGE NICHOLAS, AND THOMAS WOODFORD, LEASING LAND AMOUNTING TO 1 2 ACRES TOGETHER WITH DWELLING, ETC., BELONGING TO FAIRFAX, LOCATED IN THE PARISH OF SHELBURN, COUNTY OF LOUDON, UNTO THE SAID THOMAS WOODFORD, HIS HEIRS AND ASSIGNS FOR AND DURING

THE NATURAL LIVES OF THOMAS WOODFORD, ELIZABETH WOODFORD, HIS WIFE, AND WILLIAM WOODFORD, SON OF THOMAS WOODFORD.[4]

(NOTE THAT ELIZABETH IS NOT GIVEN AS MOTHER OF WILLIAM.)

MANY OF THE RECORDS OF CAROLINE AND OTHER COUNTIES OF THIS SECTION OF VIRGINIA WERE DESTROYED DURING THE WAR BETWEEN THE STATES AND IT IS NOT FOUND POSSIBLE TO CONNECT WITH CERTAINTY THE DESCENDANTS OF THE ABOVE SONS OF MAJOR WOODFORD WITH THEIR FORBEARS, BUT IT IS BELIEVED THAT THIS THOMAS IN LOUDON COUNTY IN 1781 WAS THE GRANDSON OF THE IMMIGRANT. HIS FATHER HAS NOT BEEN IDENTIFIED. IF NAMES ARE ACCEPTED AS INDICATIVE OF DESCENT, THE MANY WILLIAMS, THOMAS AND CATESBY WOODFORD ARE UNDOUBTEDLY MEMBERS OF THE SAME FAMILY.

WILL OF CATESBY WOODFORD IN FAUQUIER CO., VA. MADE SEPTEMBER 8, 1791; PROBATED SEPTEMBER 24, 1722. LENDS WIFE, MARY, ALL OF ESTATE. EXRS. WIFE, SON, MARK (WHEN HE COMES OF AGE), FRIENDS, GEORGE BUCKNER, JR., AND WILLIAM WOODFORD.[6]

(NOTE - IN EARLY VIRGINIA RECORDS, FRIEND WAS OFTEN USED FOR ANY KINSMAN, OTHER THAN BROTHER.)

WILLIAM WOODFORD LEASED LAND FROM BUSHROD WASHINGTON, DURING THE LIVES OF SAID WILLIAM WOODFORD, HIS WIFE, SUSANNA WOODFORD, AND OF WILLIAM[5] WOODFORD, JR., THE ONLY SON OF WILLIAM WOODFORD. DATE OF LEASE, SEPT. 18, 1787. INDEXED UNDER THE NAMES OF BOTH WILLIAM AND SUSANNAH WOODFORD IS AN ACCOUNTING OF THE ESTATE OF THE LATE WILLIAM WOODFORD RECORDED FEB. 13, 1809.[7] AN INVENTORY OF HIS ESTATE WAS DATED AUGUST 26, 1805.[8]

(NOTE - THE DATES OF THESE TRANSACTIONS PROVE THAT THIS WILLIAM COULD NOT HAVE BEEN THE SON OF THOMAS OF LOUDON, BUT HE MIGHT HAVE BEEN THE "FRIEND" OF CATESBY, MENTIONED ABOVE.)

THOMAS WOODFORD IS NEXT FOUND IN BEDFORD COUNTY, VIRGINIA, WITH HIS WIFE, ELIZABETH AND HIS SON, WILLIAM, AND PERHAPS OTHER CHILDREN BY THIS WIFE, AS HIS WILL, WHICH FOLLOWS, SHOWS. ON OCT. 15, 1791, THE FOLLOWING DEED WAS RECORDED:

WILLIAM MELTON AND MARY, HIS WIFE, OF BEDFORD COUNTY, TO THOMAS WOODFORD OF LOUDON COUNTY FOR 83 POUNDS, 18 SHILLINGS & 6D. 211 ACRES OF LITTLE OTTER ADJOINING JOHN POLLARD, RICHARD MELTON, SAMUEL HARRIS. HE SOLD THIS LAND IN 1798 AND CONTINUED TO BUY AND SELL OTHER LANDS IN BEDFORD UNTIL 1822.[9]

Many of his children married into Quaker families - Dobyns, Martin, Dixon and Scott[12] - but evidently did not embrace that faith, or they would not have had the marriage bonds that follow, these bond being contrary to the Quaker religion.

The will of "Dame Jane Skipwith of Cotes Co. Leic. (England), widow",[1] dated Oct. 20, 1629, gives the English background of the Pates of Virginia. She mentions her brothers first, John, Sir William, and Richard Welby; her nieces and nephews and their children; her numerous cousins; then her son, Edward Pate; her daus. Elizabeth Pate and Anne Pate (to whom she gives her father's picture); and her son, John Pate. She also makes bequests to Edward, "my godson Henry Pate", Charles, Elizabeth and Amy Pate, but does not give their relationship to her.[2]

She then take up her Skipwith children and grant children, but fails to give the name of their father until near the end of her will, when she bequeaths "100 for tomb of my late husband, Sir William S. and myself in Prestwold Church" and 20 for tomb of her first husband in Sleford Church.[3] Again she does not give the name of her first husband, but of course it was ----- Pate, perhaps Edward, since that name has followed the Pate family even to Bedford Co., Va. in 1767.

"Dame Jane" makes bequests to Grey Skipwith (1629), "the emigrant to Virginia".[4] In Dec., 1657, Grey Skipwith qualified in Lancaster Co., Va., as administrator of the estate of Richard Pate. On Dec. 12, 1650, Richard Pate had been granted 1141 acres in Gloucester Co. and in 1653 he represented that county in the House of Burgesses. His nephew, John Pate, inherited his estate. Since John was his nephew, John's father must have been a brother of Richard, and was "Dame Jane's" husband.

These Pates and Skipwiths may have come first to York Co., Va., in the middle of the seventeenth century and perhaps settled close together. Gloucester was formed from York in 1651; Lancaster from York and Northumberland in 1651; New Kent from York in 1654; and Hanover from New Kent in 1721. It is possible that they continued to live in the same homes while the new counties were taking on new names right over their heads.

John Pate, "Dame Jane's" younger Pate son, no doubt came with the first migration of the family, for in 1660 he was "added to the Commission (commissioners of the peace) of Gloster Co."[5] and the only extant volume of the General Court proceedings of Gloucester Co. shows that he was "admitted and Sworne one of ye Counsel of the state of this colony, Nov. 20, 1671". Nothing more is known of his life in Virginia.

"At a Court held in Gloucester Co. Nov. 8, 1672, Coll. John Pate, esq., dying possessed of considerable estate in this country, left a widow out of this country, and Mr. Thomas Pate, brother's son to said Pate, dec'd, appears and petitions for administration of his said Uncle's estate, which is accordingly granted him." [6]

Thomas, being John's"brother's son', was son of Edward, eldest son of "Dame Jane", and born in England. Date of his coming to Va. is unknown (to this writer), but he appears in Petsworth Parish, Gloucester Co. in 1680 as justice and colonel of militia. The Parish Register shows that his wife was Elizabeth and his children:

Matthew Pate -- was born in Gloucester Co., Va., of an English parent who early emigrated to America, mar. and settled there.

A foot note on this page says "Mattem Pate was son of Major Thomas Pate of Poropotank Creek, Gloucester Co. Matthew was baptized Feb. 20, 1686. He mar. Anne Reade, dau of Francis Reade, son of Col. George Reade Secretary of State."

Matthew's children were "Jacob, Jeremiah, Matthew, Thomas, Saran, Rebecca, and Rachel."[9]

JOHN WRIGHT, BLACKSMITH, of Westmoreland County, Virginia, 1691-1714.

On September 6, 1691, the "Proprietary of the Northern Neck of Virginia", granted to "John Wright of Westmoreland County, Blacksmith of Nominy" 250 acres in "Yoacomaco fforest" (page 107, Vol. 1, 1690 to 1692, Northern Neck Grants, State Land Office, Richmond, Virginia)... On May 26, 1697, "John Wright, smith", was sworn surveyor of highways for the precinct of "Nominy fforest" - (page 238, Westmoreland court "Order Book 1690-1698").

On December 14, 1704, "John Wright, Smith, of the County of Westmoreland" conveyed by deed to "Robert Carter of the County of Lancaster, Esq." for 15 lbs. four hundred and forty acres of land upon Potomac creek in Stafford County", granted unto John Wright by deed from the Proprietor's office, bearing date the 15th of March 1696/7 - (Page 254, will book Z, Stafford County, Virginia). On page 255 of the same book is recorded the waiver of dower rights for the above sale by Susannah her X mark Wright, who in so doing recites the main facts of the deed to Carter and described the grantor as "my husband John Wright of Westmoreland County"... Neither this John Wright, nor his wife Susannah, elsewhere called "Anne" were able to write their names, as all of their recorded documents bear their "marks" instead.

His will, dated January 21, 1713, proved 26 May following (1714) (Westmoreland "Deeds & Wills No. 5" pages 291-292) described himself as a "blacksmith, and names "my grandson Thomas son of my daughter Hester"; "my granddaughter Mary daughter of my daughter Susannah"; "to my son John my plantation where I now live", and "my best of Smith's tools"; to the child my wife now goes with all my land in Richmond County" (this child was the son Thomas); "to my loving wife Anne", executrix, my son (in law) Blundell and my brother (in law) Thomas Walker to see that my said son be taught to read and write", etc. and in case of his mother's decease before he attain the age of seventeen years --- to take him and look after him and his estate".

This brother-in-law named in his will, "Thomas Walker of the County of Westmorld", by his own will, dated 26 January, 1715, proved 30 May, 1716, by his relict Mary Walker, bequeaths one ewe lamb each to John Wright and Thomas Wright (the latter posthumous), sons of the deceased John Wright, the blacksmith, (Westmoreland "Deeds & Wills No. 5, p. 546, etc.)

Anne, the said widow of John Wright, the blacksmith, married again Thomas Astbury (Asbury) prior to March 28, 1716, on which date they, acting for themselves and her minor son, John Wright, sued John Carpenter, etc ...

The will of Anne "Asbury" was proved 25 November, 1755.

Thomas Astbury, Jr. and his half brother, the said Thomas Wright, born in 1714 as the posthumous son of John Wright, the blacksmith, by the said Anne Wright-Astbury, removed to Fairfax County, Virginia. On May 29, 1739, this Thomas Wright sued the estate of David Wood. (Westmoreland court "Orders etc. 1731 to 1739", page 312.) He was guardian of his said half brother, Thomas Asbury, Jr., (son of said Anne) on 26 May, 1741. "Westmoreland court 'Order Book 1739-1743', pages 100 and 116".

There were two other John Wrights in Westmoreland at the same time - John Wright the Planter, 1697-1711; and John Wright, the Overseer, 1659-1734.

Tyler's Quarterly, pp. 186, 189, 191.

Thomas Wright and his half brother, Thomas Asbury, Jr., sought their fortune in the frontier counties of Virginia and established themselves in what became Bedford County in 1754, where they subsequently had land transactions, as the Bedford records show.+ Whom they married nor where is not known.

Found later: Thomas Asbury received a grant of 150 acres of land in Bedford County July 20th, 1780.

Smith,in the spring of 1855.It was operated by him until his death May 17,1908 and it has always been operated by the family of Mr.and Mrs.J.L.Smith and myself,who holds a life dowry interest."I,Mrs. T.C.Smith, being an invalid and aged,take little part in the operation but that is given over to J.L.Smith."The farm holds many fond and sacred memories,although I have never lived on it,yet because of Mr.Smith's love and interest I have always been deeply interested,too, and continue to hold that interest".

William T. Smith was born in 1827 in North Carolina. In 1858 he removed to Ray County with his parents.He married in this county May 3,1857 to Miss Nellie T. Miles,daughter of John F and Margaret Miles,natives of Kentucky.She was born in Lawrenceburg,Anderson County,Kentucky in 1838.They became the parents of nine children,viz.: Thomas C. born April 17,1858; Emma A. born [illegible],1860;Margaret J.,born April 13,1861;Robert J.L.,born January 8,1864; Miles T.,born March 18,1866: Mary E.,born March 27,1868: Annie J., born March 7,1870: Sarah E.,born August 17,1872: Ella, born January 16,1875. Mr.and Mrs. Smith are leading members of the Old School Presbyterian Church.

(Biography taken from 1881 Ray County,Mo. History.)

This time it was operated until the license became so high that no profit could be made. The building rotted down many years afterwards.

The still has been handed down to the younger generations of the Siegel family na die now owned by Philip Siegel,a nephew of George Franklin Siegel,son of Ralser and Elizabeth Siegel.

It,however, can no longer be used for its original purpose. A certain law that was passed a few years ago compelled its present owner to do something to it to make it non-usable. This he did by cutting the top out of it.

The mill stone on which corn was ground to make mash for the whiskey was likewise handed down and is now in possession(1941) of Mrs. E.J.Clevenger,a niece of George Franklin Siegel

At the death of his father,George Franklin Siegel lived alone in 1877 on the farm that had been purchased by his father twenty-two years before. It was to this farm that he took his bride,and in 1941 they are still making their home here,one of Ray County's oldest living couples.

Residence of Gerdon Clevenger

Gerdon Clevenger lives in a frame house,probably the oldest frame house in the county,built over 120 years ago(according to the 1940-Fifth Annual Rural Edition of the Excelsior Springs,Mo Daily Standard.)

Gerdon Clevenger's father and grandfather came to Ray county when not a house stood on the north side of the Missouri River from Tennessee. A very rude log building,the first church organised in Ray County,Now Gerdon Baptist,was erected on land given by Gerdon Clevenger in 1824.

The Gerdon Clevenger homestead was erected by William Clevenger.It was a one story and a half log house,made lostly of logs of walnut,with a few white oak logs. The rafters are still in a good condition. Lime was used to fill the cracks. There was a fireplace in both ends of the house,one torn down about thirty years ago,and the other about fifteen years ago and sold as ant iquas. Four rooms have been added to the original house.

Richard Clevenger was the grandfather of Gerdon Clevenger;William Clevenger Gerdon's father. Gerdon remained with his father until his marriage in 1875.He left but came back in 1880,and has lived there ever since.

Gerdon Clevenger family possessed many deer and elk,more than any other stock raiser in Missouri. He fenced 100 acres with deer fence eleven feet high,a part of which stands. A law was made which prohibited deer and elk being fenced,so the stock had to be sold.

Residence of Mrs. Mary Michael

In the Excelsior Springs neighborhood,but on the Ray County side,says the Excelsior Springs Standard in its Fifth Rural Edition,is the farm of 160 acres entered from the government in 1845,to which twenty additional acres have been added.

John Frederick and Elizabeth Overman,had sailed from Germany in 1834 to escape the unbearable taxation in their homeland. Their daughter,Mrs.Mary Michael,the youngest of four children lives on the old homestead,built in 1855by her father,the land grant written and printed on parchment,and signed by President James K. Polk,being one of her many old relics.

The house was built with two rooms, each 18x30 feet,separated by a double rock chimney and a stairway leading from the long front porch to the attic. Mr. Overman, the builder,who was an expert carpenter,fashioned the doors and window frames which are also still in use. He covered both ends with neat rows of handmade shingles rounded at the lower edge. The old froe with which he split the clapboards for the roof and the breadaxe with which he dressed the heavy joists are still there,but not in use any more.

Tobacco was marketed at Camden,wheat hauled to Missouri City for grinding,corn fed to the stock on the place,the principal crops then.

Thomas Baber sold him the part of the farm south of the Old State Road for three dollars an acre. The original building on the farm was a story and a half log house. As the corner house was noted for its fine water many travelers stopped there for a drink from the well on their journeys.

In 1852 Jabez Shotwell moved here,later selling to his son,William M. in 1870,who reared his family here.A part of the bricks were burned on the farm.for the brick house that was erected and still in use.

At present(1941) the farm belongs to George Shotwell's son,William C. grandson of Jabez Shotwell.

Residence of Isaiah Mansur

A New Englander,Isaiah Mansur entered a tract of land fifteen miles northeast of Richmond,near Millville,as a homestead. In 1843 he built a log cabin there. Today,116 years after his arrival in this county,the house is a part of his son,also named Isaiah Mansur.

The old farmhouse might have been built last year,so well maintained is it. The"new part" across the front,dating from 1856,is made of sawn lumber and clapboard. Its architecture follows the familiar pattern of ante bellum Missouri homes-- a long rectangle with two rooms downstairs and two up at each end,and a wide hall between,with the stairway at one side.There is a chimney in each gable.serving downstairs and upstairs fireplaces,now little used.

The square logs of the old cabin,dating from 1843,are covered with clapboard and the huge,hewn oak timbers are visible only at one side of the basement stairs. Also in the basement may be seen the original joists under the cabin.heavy oak logs flattened on the top side,with the bark still clinging to the bottom. But over in the corner is an automatic pump supplying the modern water system,and electric wiring runs through the rustic joists.

"The electricians certainly had a time,getting their wires through" Mrs. Mansur recalled,"when we cut in electricity,about eight years ago. Sometimes they had to use bits three feet long to get through these old timbers."

"Electricity is the greatest thing that ever happened to the farm," her husband added.

Mansur General Store

When Isaiah and Charles Mansur arrived in Ray County from St. Louis,they started a general store first in a log building on what is called"the old Huckels place",about midway between the present Mansur home and Millville. Later,in 1845,the old Huckels family built a big brick house on the place. It still stands and C.L.Renfro,87 years old lives there alone.

The store was operated there from 1837 to 1843,and Isaiah Mansur's son,Isaiah,still has the ledger books his father kept. That of 1839 is typical. The father.a religious man and a leader in the Methodist church,as his son is,started the year with a bit of homespun verse:

By the lite of the day
May we be kept from going astray
And keep the rite way
Till endless day shall fade away.

On the pages which followed were entries of purchases most of them on credit. Typical of the day were such items as:

3 lbs. lead	- - - - - - - - .25

Landmark Loss by Fire Recalls Bygone
Ke other one like the Vine-covered Inlet one west of Millville

To C.L. Renfro, 77, the loss of his two-story home last Thursday evening, two miles west of Millville, was more than the loss of a community landmark. It was a live-in home filled with sacred memories of children's play and gaiety-- of friendly visits-- of cozy fall-evenings, reverie and data of years and years of happy living. The walls and crannies of the vine-covered brick and frame house held the secrets of over 100 years. The old family Bible the recorded births and deaths, the gems gathered with age, important clippings beneath its covers,--it too went up in the flames.

It all happened that Mr. Renfro was kindly shoeing a neighbour woman on Thursday evening how well his old stove was working since he repaired it. The match he used leaped onto the oil soaked carpets, destroyed the lovely home, built around 1847 by slave labor, in little more than one hour.

The house was originally built by a Mr. Hawkins before the Civil War and was later lived in by a Mr. Paintes before Mr. Renfro took possession some 40 odd years ago. A year and half spring Mr. and Mrs. Renfro were still wintering as was usual with their daughter, Mrs. Jess Pinkerton in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, where Mr. Renfro took sick and died.

The old house at Millville was lonely but it was home to Mrs. Renfro and back he went, puttering around the yard in anticipation, cutting weeds, and showing his friends and visitors around. Last summer his sister Mrs. Jessie Livesay, of Salisbury stayed with him and asked to take the old family Bible back home with her. But Mr. Renfro wasn't ready to part with it--not then. . . .it would later be the same with the old home gone.

Richmond, Mo.— This is the story of two families, a farm and a house--a farm and house that have had only two masters, the Isaiah Manners, father and son since they were established in the Missouri wilderness 111 years ago.

In 1837 two young New Englanders, brothers, sold out their drug store in St. Louis and moved up the Missouri river to start a new business, a general store, in Ray County. In 1844, a father and four brothers, immigrants from Germany, made a steamboat up the Missouri on the crest of the great flood of that year, landing directly on the bluff because the entire river bottom was filled with water. The four soon built homes along the road that is now state highway No. 13 in Ray County, leading from the river at Lexington to Richmond and on northward. The homes still stand.

One of the New Englanders, Isaiah Manner, entered a tract of land fifteen miles northeast of Richmond, near Millville, as a homestead. In 1844, he built a log cabin, there. Today, 111 years after his arrival, the house is a part of the home of his son, also named Isaiah. The son at the age of 78, farms without help 300 acres of his father's original holdings. And the son's wife the former Florence Greene, is the great granddaughter of the German immigrant who led his four boys to Ray County in 1837.

It is not surprising then, that the Manners have a sense of history; that they have preserved the records of the stores which the first Isaiah operated, and live in their old home surrounded by things out of the past--solid walnut secretaries and bookcases, a walnut hatrack in the shape of a ship's wheel, a walnut bannister on the stairs which Mr. Manner grasps affectionately saying: 'Sorry's the time I slid down that as a boy.'

The mantles of two of the five fireplaces in the house are solid slabs of walnut three inches thick and a foot wide.

William Rimmer's First Home

Mr.and Mrs. William Rimmer,Sr.living northwest of Orrick are 90 and 89 respectively,according to the Excelsior Springs,Mo. Standard in the Fifth Annual Rural Edition. They were married when 19 and 18 years of age respectively,and have lived in their home for ever seventy years.

"We have two hundred acres here that was never mortgaged.People fuss about hard times now,but at first we lived in a log house put up for a tobacc barn.It had a stick chimney,a board door and no windows,"says Mrs. Rimmer.

"I sewed by the light that came down the chimney. At night we used a grease lamp for a while. When we got coaloil lamps,we thought it was just fi

"I never lived on a rag carpet until my last child was born.(She was th mother of eleven children) I made one,but sold it at a store and bought clot

"Times are mighty different now. The fall I was married I spun wool,dye it red,green,and blue in hanks,wove it,and made me a new Linsey dress for my first married winter. I knit every stocking and sock before the fashions came to buy."

"Then there is a great of difference between riding in an ox cart and in a car."

"People have lots of advantages these days that they are not thankful for. We packed eggs to town for two cents a dozen. I sometimes rode horseba with a bucket of butter tied on each side and carried eggs on the other side If we went in the wagon I packed the eggs in oats or bran,and yet some broke on the rough roads. Now,the huckster comes to the door after the eggs and brings groceries. We are the only ones in this neighborhood that were here when we came. All others have passed away or moved out."

"They have better ways and get more profit out of farming now than they used to way back there. I used to drive hogs,"says Mr. Rimmer," to Orrick to sell them. Somebody took a wagon along to haul the ones that tired out. You couldn't do that now."

" When we were married,"says Mrs. Rimmer",we had just a part of a load of furniture. We had a wooden bed and a homemade walnut table.Mother had an iron pot that she loaned each one of us when we married until the next one married.We nailed two good boxes together to make a safe for dishes. I took an old lwan dress and made a curtain to keep out the flies and dust. A skill et with a lid and that pot were all the cooking things I had. I had to use the fireplace to cook my meals."

"We raised a good crop of tobacco the first year. We sold it in April and boughta four-cap cook stove."

Residence of Nelson Hill

Thomas Raber Sr. came from Clark Co.Ky in 1830,and entered and bought 640 acres of land from the government. Fo r years later he brought his family in covered wagons to their new home that he had prepared for them on the frontier.

The house consisted of two rooms on the ground and two rooms on the second story,each floor separarted by a hall. The brick was made,pressed and burned on the farm by Mr. Raber and his son,Frank. It is thought it took th three years to prepare the building material for the house. It was built before the Civil War,probably in 1856,as some people think. Only 100 acres is now(1963) in the Raber Family. The acreage had stretched from the Old State Road west of Richmond to the next through-road going east and west to the southwest of Richmond.

Nelson Hill bought the property from Barney Mackin,whose father had owned it. Two frame rooms on both lower and upper floors have been added

Residence of William E. Shotwell

Stephen Jacobs sold to Jabez Shotwell,father of Wm. M. Shotwell for two dollars and fifty cents and acre some land south of the State Road west of Richmond

Residence of James Allen Hughes

This homestead,built in 1859,is eight miles northeast of Richmond,Mo., being eighty-two years old. The brick in the house was made by slaves on the plantation,as large acreage was called in that day.The farm consisted of 80 acres,but has been added to in later years.The slave quarters were of log.

Asi Hughes,son of James Hughes took over the entire management and cont of the farm in 1879.He devoted his time to raising fine stock.It is now bein managed by his son,Ray Hughes.

The old pioneer home is of red brick with green shutters and white trim ings,and a fireplace in every room.It is in good condition today.

Residence of John Switzer

John Switzer bought land in 1860,an acreage of 240 acres,from Isaac Holcomb at $1.25 # acre. It was paid for in silver.It is now known as the Grafton Switzer farm(1941),and has been added to until there are 311 acres. 1860,At the time it was bought,there was a log house on the farm near a goo spring,but as his family increased to nine children,another house was built on the farm,four miles from Cowgill,south,and the building materials had to be hauled from Hamilton,Mo,in Caldwell County. Part of this house was later moved and is still in use,and the remaining homestead was remodeled as it now stands.

John Switzer lived here until his death in 1901.When he became in active,his son,Allen Switzer,took over the old home,and lived here until hi death in 1917.Grafton Switzer is his son who now(1941)lives on the farm,and alsothe fourth generation,William Thomas Switzer,an only son,with his family

Residence of George Franklin Siegel

Balser and Elizabeth Siegel,both full-blooded Germans,brought their family from Tennessee in 1855,first stopping in Caldwell County,the father coming to western Ray County to locate 240 acres of land(80 acres still (1941)in possession of the family.)

The double-log house,which is one of the oldest in the state of Mo. according to the "Fifth Annual Rural Edition of the Daily Standard of Excelsior Springs,Mo.),was built in the spring of 1821. It is a one and a half story house with a rock chimney at each end and an entrance between the two houses. One room,the kitchen with a loft,makes up one house,and the other one includes two rooms below and one above. Lime and clay mud were used as a filler between the logs.

With but very few changes the house still stands today(1941),as it did one hundred seventeen years ago. It has been recovered only twice,once with hand-made boards,and the last time with wood shingles. The same weather boarding is on it today that was put on it when it was built.

Soon after purchasing the farm the Siegel family was moved there,and a large dam was built about one hundred yards below the spring nearby,the chief water supply. A log house was also erected to house the eighty-gallon still and other equipment that were used in making of whiskey which was made from corn.

This still was operated for several years until the building was burned down by an unknown party.

Another log building was soon erected,and the same still that was only slightly damaged by the fire of the first still house was again used to carry on the making of whiskey.

Written by Mrs. Susan Duval Hause

The historical Ray County home of Reverend James Duval,a pioneer Baptist Minister,the son of Captain Daniel Duval,a Revolutionary soldier of Virginia,the father of William,Henderson and Thomas,Confederate soldiers,may be described as follows:

A home cannot speak for itself to tell those tales of early life,so we,who are made of flesh and blood,must go out into the lonely places and enter these forsaken paternal shelters,study their history and tell of their past to you. These silent sentinels with their stately dignity remind me that they helped build manhood and womanhood,helped preach the gospel of Jesus Christ,helped to fight the losing battles of the sixties.

This old home,located six and one half miles northeast of Richmond,Ray County,Missouri,one and one half miles east of Highway 13 sheltered the mother and father and their eight children,viz.,Thomas, William,Henderson,Daniel French,Mifflin Dallas,all born in Culpepper County,Virginia;Armenius Russell,Mary Russell(Mrs. W.F.Ewing)James Austin,John Claude were born in Ray County at this old home to which Reverend Duval with his family,his slaves and belongings came. His wife Lydia Russell,was truly a pioneer mother.

James Duval was the fourth child of Daniel and Mary Herring His wife;Daniel Duval was a Revolutionary War Captain. He died andVirginia His wife,Mary, came to Missouri,and is buried on the farm of Elizabeth Duval Rice,two and one half miles north of town.The home from which James Duval came from Virginia was a historical one. His father was an associate of Daniel Boone,and went to Kentucky on hunting trips with him. His Uncle William married Cordelia Mason,a daughter of George Mason,and lived on a farm or estate,next to the Washingtons.

The home of which I write has helped make Missouri history. Its first owner was Christopher Trigg,a bachelor Virginian,a descendant of patriots of the Revolution,John and William Trigg. He had previously left a Virginia home,and settled here,where he lived alone with his slaves He was a brother of my great grandmother Sarah Trigg,the wife of Jesse F. Garner,who also helped make history.

In the fall of 1840,this home was sold to Reverend James Duval. It consisted of seven hundred acres,and is centrally located.It has roads all around it. The house is about in the center of the farm. The yard is large,and the old rock walk,flower-bordered,is very much the same.The front porch is colonial type,having large columns.

The house is one and one half story,built entirely of logs, weather boarded in solid walnut.It has a front and back stairs,also two separate sets of bedrooms. The entrance door is paneled and has small panel lights on either side and above,all doors walnut.

The entrance hall is interesting,as it contains a beautiful walnut stairway. On each side of the hall are large living rooms,both containing paneled fireplaces with side shelves above,all of walnut.The woodwork is the same. The baseboard is very wide.

As we go from room to room,we dream many dreams of the past dwellers. The dining room is about eighteen feet square. The main feature of interest is,there is no door opening into the kitchen-only a serving window between. In this way, the cooks and dining room girls were kept in their places

We went from the dining room on to the north porch,then to the kitchen;here we find an old rock fireplace,by which the food for the kitchen was cooked. We,of this electrical age,cannot imagine baking bread and cakes in an oven with coals piled high around it. There is also a long porch on the south,on which the family sits in pleasant weather.The entrance to the back stairway was also from it. . . . . .

A description of the Duval home would be incomplete,if I failed to say that James B. Duval II had a string of horses when he grew to manhood,and the race track was a most interesting place.There the younger generation of Duvals rode their horses.

The last mentioned should not have been in this cemetery although she married a descendant of Daniel Tomblin Allen,but particular there, since no one else has ever been buried here with his brothers,James Richardson Allen and sister,Judith Ann Woodson Allen Sims [illegible] Thomas A. Allen

Others of these here buried here,but the markers,if there ever any,are gone. The cemetery was saved,during the Civil War time this,from becoming found in the pockets northfields of James Richardson Allen from the ridge on the northeast of the present location on the ridge east of Richmond about two and a half miles.

The markers of James Richardson and William Henry Bathiem are placed side by side,and their names are placed on the side of the large monument. Through the years a certain amount money funds have been used for the writings on each grave.

From the earliest days when the French explored a long the Mississippi and Mo. rivers' [illegible], until after the Civil War, Missouri has been the cross roads of different movements across the country. Its early homes reflect the various styles brought in by the settlers from countries and regions of their origin. The house I am writing about is a typical plantation house of the South where I was reared, and it is still in the family.

John Hannah entered the land Feb. 20, 1831, built a log cabin on it, sold it to John Sloss in 1832. Dr. Thomas Allen who built the house came out from Virginia and bought the place in 1834. Mrs. Oliver of Cape Girardeau has in her possession a letter that was written by Henry Watkins Allen, a son of Dr. Allen, to her father who was still in Virginia in 1838 saying "We are still living in the old house but will build our new house in the spring." The house was built in 1838. The brick was burned here on the place, the finish walnut logs all came from Crooked River.

The sleepers under the house are 10 x 10" in white oak. All the floors on the 1st floor are oak, on the other two floors are walnut. The attic house is walnut, throughout. It is put together by wooden pegs driven through augur holes. The walls are 18" thick. All the nails are hand made nails.

It has 3 chimneys and 6 big fireplaces and mantles. It has been said that during slave time it took 3 in the kitchen, 2 on the woodpile and 2 to keep the fireplaces going.

My great uncle Thomas H. Jacobs did all the cabinet work on the house and the Indianola brothers did the brick work. The rooms are 12 x 14' with 4 large halls and staircases. My grandmother was married in Baltimore and came to Richwood a bride and came here to a dance in Jan. 1855.

The heirs of Dr. Thomas Allen sold the place to Col. Benjamin Dean in 1856. Mrs. Emily Dean was born here. In 1883 it was sold to Dr. T. T. Mosby. He sold it to James Bothan and Jurney Anderson in 1888. In 1891 Jurney Anderson sold it to Kate O Harney and in 1903 the heirs of Kate Harney sold it to my father T. D. Jacobs who still owns it.

There has been much living done in this house, as my children received here. It is said Americans are too prone to forget their yesterdays.

Written by Mrs. Anna Jacobs Tibbs

Residence of Wiley Mayes, Senior.

Amont the very old family residences is the home of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Mayes, Senior, one mile west and a quarter of a mile north of Knoxville, Ray County, Missouri.

Wiley Mayes, Sr., was born in Claiborne County, Tennessee, July 25, 1800, and married Miss Susannah Powell, granddaughter of Joseph Powell, a Pennsylvania Quaker, who died near Independence, Jackson County, Missouri, February 14, 1835.

Wiley Mayes and his family migrated from Tennessee to Missouri in the spring of 1830. After two years in Howard Co. (near Glasgow) he in 1832 entered from the Government what is now called the Joshua Dale farm, two miles northwest of Richmond.

On April 24, 1834, the Mayes family arrived at the old spring on the Mayes branch of Fire Creek, reaching a spot across the branch north of the present old residence at about dush. Mr. Mayes shot and killed four deer from his wagon, while Mrs. Mayes was cooking supper on an open fire.

The residence, on the hill on the south side of the Mayes branch, was built of logs. A single room was built first, but by or before 1838, the two story four room log house was finished, and this part of the house stands today, weatherboarded outside, plastered inside. The building is in good condition, and few would suspect that the walls are of logs. It stands today, solid and unbending, more than a hundred years old. There is no hundred year old house in Ray County that is in such excellent condition.

A zinc etching picture of the Mayes residence is to be seen in the 1871 edition of the "Ray County Historical Atlas". An ell was built onto the north side of the house, but the date of its construction is not known. The farm went to David T. Mayes, the youngest son, who died many years ago. The property has passed through several hands, and it is in today first rate condition. It is a monument to one of Ray County's fine old pioneers.

Jewell Mayes

The house now owned and occupied by Maurice Milligan was built in 1857 by George Keyes. This beautiful old Georgian house is of the architecture much used during the Revolutionary Period and later in Philadelphia and through the South. It was much used during the time of George III, hence its designation.

The iron grill for the portocoes was ordered and received but owing to the death of Mr. Keyes(in a steamship explosion on the Mississippi River) they were never added to the house. A t that time it was supposed that the tide of building would be to the east, and the house was built to face the east street.

The living room and the drawing room fronted east, and the beautiful old stairway running up on either side of the wide old hall met on a broad landing at the back of the hall and continues upward to the second floor. This also accounts for the fact that the kitchen(on the west side of the house) is at the present front side of the house. The house was not changed, but the west side was used as the front entrance.

Mrs. Keyes, left a widow, filled the house with young people to board. The bedrooms upstairs were filled with young business men and young women who were attending Mrs. Cunningham's private Seminary for young women. James A. Davis, Green Ball, and his brother Elijah(Lige) Ball, and Henry Ellis were a group of young men. Among the young women were Fannie and Sallie Frame, Cynthia Cole and Emma Mansur.

Fannie Frame married J. K. Craven and went to Kansas City to live. Mr. Craven became a wealthy, prominent citizen of K.C., first president of the Chamber of Commerce.

In 1859 Mrs. Keyes sold the home to Joseph S. Hughes. Here for many years he and Mrs. Hughes and their family lived a full and happy life. With true Southern hospitality they kept open house literally to relatives and friends. Through the years it was the center of much social life and entertainment. Many distinguished guests were welcomed. Everyone who received an invitation to the house accepted with pleasure.

The house was christened Hillcrest. The widowed mother of Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Morehead, and her two daughters, Miss Deborah and Miss Swan Morehead, were welcome members of the family. Here beautiful weddings were celebrated, perhaps the largest, most brilliant affair being that of Miss Swan Morehead to the wealthy and distinguished Colonel Dower of St. Joseph. That brilliant and versatile writer, Colonel Jacob Triplett Childs, has left a vivid description of the event in the Conservator, one of the oldest papers in Missouri.

Here the daughters of the house were married through the years, the last one being the beautiful wedding of Isabelle Milligan when she plighted her troth to her groom Mr. John Crowley.

It was here that Mr. Milligan's parents met for the first time. And here it was destined that their son, the distinguished jurist, should come, together with his own wife and family, to abide under his own roof tree, and history continues to be made within these gracious old walls.

Among the very earliest settlers of Ray County, Charles Mansur came to St. Louis from Philadelphia in 1837. A few years later his younger brother Isaiah joined him, and they came to Ray County and pre-empted land. They each built a house on his portion, Isaiah building in 1840 a substantial home of walnut logs, to which some years later he added the four rooms two story front with the wide halls in the center. It is finished inside with thick walnut doors, wainscoting, mantels and base-boards over the fire large fireplaces. The rooms were large and pleasant.

It has always been kept painted white, originally with green shutters to the tall windows. There are thirteen rooms in the house, Originally there was the double portico, but this has been replaced by a broader porch. The big, generous fireplace in the large inviting dining room is something to see inside and out, also something to remember. The youngest son and present owner has kept the place up well, and it is a joy to all the relatives to assemble together here in a nnual reunion.

The old Schooler Home, a mile or two northwest of Millville was an early old pioneer home. Built of walnut materials, there is a fortune in it in walnut. It can endure for ages to come. The large rooms are divided by a hall both upstairs and down, but curiously enough, upstairs the hall opens only into the west room, which was for the sons of the family and their guests. There is an inner stairway leading up to the daughter's big front room from the parent's room below.

This same rule is observed in the old Arrow Rock Tavern.

Prairie Hill Cemetery, Atchison County, Mo.
East of Tarkio, Mo., 4 miles on State Highway No.4
Township 65N; Range 39W; Sec. 21.

Tombstone Records prior to 1900 as reported by Mrs E.J. Sheets, Tarkio, Mo., assisted by the caretakers Bill and Esther Kendall; also Gladys Currie, Mrs J.E. Martin, and Mrs Martins Mother who will be 94 years old March 30, 1953. Records compiled spring of 1952.

This Cemetery was established as a Community Burial Ground and named Prairie Hill as it was on a high hill, and the surrounding country was prairie land. The site was donated by Chris (Christian) Shaum and his wife [illegible] Shaum is the first Tombstone record of a burial. (1876)

The parents of Mrs J.E. Martin (above mentioned) lived on the Chris Shaum Farm for 11 years. While living there, a church (Methodist Protestant) was built across the road north of the Cemetery on land donated by Ryland Coe, Sr. It was built in 1887 and dedicated the same year. Congregation has long since disbanded and the building removed.

Mrs J.E. Martin, 126 N. Mulberry St., Maryville, Mo., says: "Well do we remember when the church was built, as mother boarded the Contractor and his wife, and he was also the Minister who dedicated the Church when it was completed. His name was Rev. Turlee, a minister and contractor from Maryville, Mo." Mrs Mrs also states that on the lot of her Uncle Jack Marquis are unmarked graves as follows:

Charles U. Marquis, died Dec. 4, 1880.
Blanche Marquis died August 12, 1879.
Lena Williams - - - -
Ralph Ferris - - - -

A tombstone marks the grave of Margaret May Marquis who died 1898.
